A. R Item III

Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability Claim 11 relates to subject-matter considered by this Authority to be covered by the provisions of Rule 67.1(v) PCT, i.e. presentations of information.

Consequently, no opinion will be formulated with respect to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability of the subject-matter of this claim, Article 34(4)(a)(i) PCT.

B. Citations and explanations in respect of paragraph V:

Reference is made to the following documents:

D1: WO 97 19429
D2: EP-A-0 817 143
D3: GB-A-2 308 523

1. Document D1 (see in particular page 1, lines 12-15; page 4, lines 22-25; page 5, line 13 to page 6, line 1; page 6, lines 20-23; page 11, lines 18-25; page 7, lines 19-21; page 8, lines 1-2; Fig. 1; Fig. 15; Fig. 16; Fig. 19; Fig. 21; Fig. 23) discloses, according to all the features of claim 1, a method for handling messages transmitted between communication terminals via a wireless network (see page 1, lines 12-15; "100" in Fig. 1; "305" in Fig. 11) comprising the steps of generating a compound message including a text part and at least one graphical icon part (see page 5, lines 13-14; page 11, lines 18-25; Fig. 15; Fig. 16; Fig. 19; Fig. 21; Fig. 23), said compound message generation includes the steps of reading of a user inputted text part and converting the inputted text into a predefined message text format, adding a graphical part to the message, said graphical part includes a record for each of said at least one graphical icon part in a graphical format (see page 5, line 14 to page 6, line 1; page 6, lines 20-23), adding information in the message defining the position of said at least one graphical icon part in the text part (see page 4, lines 22-25; page 6, lines 20-23), and transmission of the message via the wireless network (see page 1, lines 12-15; page 7, lines 19-21; page 8, lines 1-2).

Similarly, the cited document D2 (see col. 1, lines 3-12; col. 1, lines 54-58; col. 2, lines 10-20; col. 3, line 46 to col. 4, line 9; col. 4, lines 19-29; col. 5, lines 24-33; Fig. 1; Fig. 2; Fig. 3B) also discloses a similar method for handling messages as claimed in claim 1.

The subject-matter of claim 1 therefore is not new, Article 33(2) PCT.

It should furthermore be noted that even if novelty of claim 1 could be argued, based on minor differences between the features of said claim and those disclosed in document D1 or in document D2, the subject-matter of claim 1 would not involve an inventive step, Article 33(3) PCT, having regard to the disclosure of documents D1 and D2 and the normal knowledge of a person skilled in the art of transmission of graphics as a part of the messaging between communication terminals.

2. Document D1 (see in particular page 1, lines 12-15; page 3, lines 17-20; page 4, lines 22-25; page 5, lines 13 to page 6, line 1; page 6, lines 20-23; page 7, line 19 to page 8, line 2; page 9, line 32 to page 10, line 4; page 11, lines 18-25; Fig. 1; Fig. 11; Fig. 15; Fig. 16; Fig. 19; Fig. 21; Fig. 23) discloses, according to the main features of claim 2 a communication terminal for handling messages (see "100" in Fig. 1; "305" in Fig. 11) and having a controller (see "120" in Fig. 1; "325" in Fig. 11), means for communicating with a wireless communication network (see page 1, lines 12-15; page 7, lines 19-21; page 8, lines 1-2; "335" in Fig. 11), and a user interface through which the user operates the terminal (see page 7, lines 21-24; "310" and "140" in Fig. 1; "320" in Fig. 11), said user interface includes a display (see page 3, lines 17-20; "130" in Fig. 1), said communication terminal furthermore comprises a message editor application (see page 9, line 32 to page 10, line 4) by means of which the user is allowed to generate compound message including a text part and at least one graphical icon part (see page 5, lines 13-14; page 11, lines 18-25; Fig. 15; Fig. 16; Fig. 19; Fig. 21; Fig. 23), said controller generates a message for being transmitted via said means for communicating (see page 7, lines 19-21; page 7, line 32 to page 8, line 1), said message includes a text part in a predefined message text character format, a graphical part including a record for each of said at least one graphical icon part in a graphical format (see page 5, lines 14 to page 6, line 1; page 6, lines 20-23), and information in the message defining the position of said at least one graphical icon part in the text part (see page 4, lines 22-25; page 6, lines 20-23).

EXAMINATION REPORT - SEPARATE SHEET

International application No. PCT/EP00/02370

The subject-matter of claim 2 differs from the disclosure of D1 in that the communication terminal of claim 2 has a transceiver. In D1 a separation is made between the transmitting terminal and the receiving terminal, the latter being further described as paging terminal.

However, this distinguishing feature merely represents a minor design alternative which is well-known in the art. Note that the functionality of a pager, i.e. a data communication radio receiver is nowadays integrated in mobile phones and that a pager alone is therefore disappearing from the radio telecommunications market. Moreover, the necessity of transmitting graphical images in combination with text messages via a communication terminal having a transceiver such as a mobile phone is also confirmed by the disclosure of document D3 (see in particular the Abstract; "10" in Fig. 3).

The skilled person being aware of the communication terminal described in D1 and wishing to use a very common radio communication terminal for communicating in both directions, would therefore arrive, by implementing the known principle as e.g. described in document D1 to the communication terminal of D3, without the exercise of inventive skill, at the communication terminal for handling messages corresponding to the subject-matter of claim 2.

Consequently, the subject-matter of claim 2 lacks an inventive step, Article 33(3) PCT.

3. Furthermore, dependent claims 3 to 10 do not appear to contain any additional features which in combination with the features of any claim to which they refer, involve an inventive step for the reason that the subject-matter of said claims is either in principle directly derivable from the disclosure of document D1 (for claims 5, 6, 7 and 9: see page 4, lines 8-16; page 6, line 31 to page 7, line 3; "155" in Fig. 1; "315" in Fig.11; for claim 10: see page 7, lines 4-6; page 1, lines 8-11) or from the disclosure of document D2 (for claims 5, 6, 7 and 9: see col. 1, lines 25-29; col. 1, lines 54-58; col. 2, lines 5-16; col. 3, lines 16-41; col. 4, lines 10-29), or represents simple design details which are generally known to a person skilled in the field of transmission of graphics as a part of the messaging between communication terminals.

Thus, dependent claims 3 to 10 do not meet the requirements of Article 33(3) PCT.

C. Remarks made in respect of paragraph VII:

1. The independent claims should have been drafted in the proper two-part form recommended by Rule 6.3.(b),(i),(ii) PCT, having a preamble that correctly reflects the nearest prior art, being represented by the above noted document D1.
2. The claims do not include reference signs in parentheses where features shown in the drawings are referred to, Rule 6.2.(b) PCT.
3. In order to meet the requirements of Rule 5.1.(a),(ii) PCT, the relevant prior art, i.e. the documents D1 to D3 noted above, should have been acknowledged by reference and briefly discussed in the introductory part of the description.
4. The opening part of the description should have been modified to bring it into agreement with any new independent claim, Rule 5.1.(a),(iii) PCT.
5. Following typing errors are present in the description:
 - page 2, line 7: "... vil ..." should have been replaced by "... will ...",
 - page 2, line 28: "... meassage ..." should have been replaced by "... message ...",
 - page 3, line 19: "... being being ..." should have been replaced by "... being ...",
 - page 6, line 21: "... the the ..." should have been replaced by "... the ...".

EXAMINATION REPORT - SEPARATE SHEET

International application No. PCT/EP00/02370

D. Remarks made in respect of paragraph VIII:

The following amendments would have been necessary to the claims, Article 6 PCT:

1. Claim 5:

- "... the message editor ..." should have been replaced by "... the message editor application ...",
- "... Communication terminal according to claim 2-4 ..." should have been replaced by "... Communication terminal according to claim 2 to 4 ...".

2. In method claim 1 the verbs in "-ing" should have been preceded by the formulation "the step of...".
